How Does It Benefit You?

Stand out amongst your competition by having ads in all of the AdEyes host locations, where thousands of people will see your ad not just every month...but everyday!

When you sign up to advertise on the AdEyes Network, your ad will be seen all day long at every single restaurant with an AdEyes television... Each restaurant will have different specials, events and ways of pulling eyes to the TV screens daily, if not hourly.

AdEyes is building a network of advertising communities to reach captive audiences by way of giving an in-home medium feel to the out-of-home dining experience...

What is it?

A network of televisions is provided to host restaurants in a given area for the purpose of displaying ads for local advertisers who purchase space on the network. These dynamic out-of-home television ads attract attention and peak interest in ways and places that other advertising mediums can't possibly reach! Televisions are located in the common areas of restaurants and dining establishments. And patrons will be able to text message the enticing ads to receive coupons and discounts immediately making it a fun, and effective, interactive experience.
